The administration of Democrat Barack Obama has still not satisfied Congressional and media questions about just what it knew and when it knew it about the terrorist attack on U.S. Diplomats in Benghazi, Libya, last September 11. That attack killed four Americans, including the U.S. Ambassador to Libya. The Obama administration has changed its explanation of that attack several times since and has so far refused to identify those officials who made key decisions not to send help to stop the attacks, and who decided not to initially call the killings a terrorist attack. Knowing this and anything else you may be aware of about this issue, do you agree or disagree that President Obama should be impeached over his handling of this situation?
