

Teotwawki

by Charlotte Susumi

© 2011-05-22

9 7

by Charlotte Susumi, edited by John J. Bulten: 13x13, 24 words, 45 black squares

ACROSS

- 1 Prophetess with oracular mystique
 4 Persuaded one to believe the political-party duopoly is invincible, e.g.
 8 Book that predicted the end of the world as we know it, in 1982: 2 wds.
 9 Narnian denizen who always makes one good point
 10 Remoralike nonproducing consumer
 11 One born a citizen, even if
- dually loyal and so not presidentially eligible
 13 Writer who declared the defeat of totalitarianism to be his only goal
 16 Patriot and Deist Allen
 17 Mazar-i-Sharif rioters who massacred workers at the U.N. Assistance Mission
 19 Man who predicted the end of the world as we know it, in 1994 and 2011: 2 wds.
 20 Held a second trial on

(presidential eligibility, for instance)

- 21 Pacific nation where Michael Savage collected rare ethnomedicinal specimens

DOWN

- 1 Obama's trek to Seattle, Washington, or Jakarta, Indonesia, or Pakistan
 2 Group among which William Miller predicted the end of the world as we know it, in 1844: 2 wds.
 3 Print reproduced from a stone or plate original: colloq.
 4 Seat fit for a Messiah
 5 Nickname for the "silencer", the heavily-regulated rifle suppressor
 6 Book that predicts the end of the world as we know it, without date: 2 wds.
 7 Ethnic moniker for Ronald Reagan
 12 NPR's flavorful term describing Caucasian influence in Washington, D.C.
 14 Decadent pasta concoction
 15 Overpoweringly offensive to the senses
 16 Nebulous, ill-defined atmosphere in which podcasts and tweets come and go
 18 Complete range of one's repertoire